

The weekend's here, and you're ready to PARTY-HARDY. But before you plan the all out rager at your house, better think about your neighbors. If your party gets out of hand, it can cost you upwards of $500 dollars in fines. Here's some ways you can avoid annoying the neighbors and getting slapped with a big fine:

PUT A CORK IN IT.

- Keep the party inside! Bumbling drunks outside are sure to draw the ire of neighbors.
- Turn the bass down on your stereo - bass can really shake up a neighborhood.
- Listen to the SNAPs - they're your early warning system. If they say it's time to shut down the party, then it's time to shut down the party.

www.slopd.org

