

VIP TREATMENT IS COOL. MIP treatment isn't. It stands for Minor In Possession and whether you're the minor holding the beer when the party gets broken up or the older friend who provided the beer, you're busted. Did you know:

MINOR PROBLEM

- You can be arrested if you're under 21 and possess an alcoholic beverage.
- It's against the law to furnish alcoholic beverages to anyone under 21. The mix of alcohol and immature judgment can lead to assaults, alcohol overdoses, driving under the influence and death.
- Open kegs at college parties or giving alcohol to minors to keep them off "other drugs" doesn't make sense.

Don't be a MIP. Not even a sip.
